- distance
- time of day and day of week
- duration of call
- class of service
- other line rate charges (when applicable)

The specific factors which apply to a given IIMTS call and their application are listed in the rate section applicable to that type of call. The regulations pertaining to those factors are as follows:

2.6.1 Distance

- (A) The distance between the calling and called numbers within the LATA is measured on the basis of airline mileage between rate centers as described in AT&T Tariff F.C.C. No. 10 or its successor tariff.

- (b) The operator reaches the called number because of trouble on the network.
- (c) The operator places a call for a calling party who identifies himself/herself as being handicapped and unable to dial the call because of the handicap.
- (d) The operator reestablishes a Dial Station call that has been interrupted after the called number has been reached.
- (e) The operator places a call because service components are not available for dial completion.

2.6 Rate Determination (Cont'd)

2.6.3 Class of Service (Cont'd)

- (2) The Operator Station class of service applies when calls are completed with the assistance of the operator except as specified for the Dial Station or Customer Dialed Calling Card Station classes of service. Operator Station service includes messages originated at a public or semi-public coin telephone.

(B) Person-to-Person

The Person-to-Person class of service applies when the person originating the call specifies the particular party to be reached by the operator. That party may be:

- (2) A mobile station through a Miscellaneous Common Carrier attendant.
- (3) A station, department, or office through a PBX attendant.

After the called number has been reached, if the calling party request or agrees to speak to a party other than the party initially specified, the call is still classified as Person-to-Person. The calling party is responsible for identifying the party at the called number.

Person-to-Person also applies when the call originator requests the operator to make arrangements with a called party to establish a call at a specified time.

In the event that a minute of use is split between two rate periods, the rate in effect at the start of that minute applies.

- (C) On Person-to-Person messages, chargeable time begins when connection is established between the calling person and a specified person, station, department, office or an agreed-upon alternate.
- (D) Chargeable time ends when the calling party "hangs up." If the called party "hangs up" but the calling party does not, chargeable time ends when the connection is released either by automatic timing equipment in the telecommunications network or by the operator.
- (E) Chargeable time does not include time lost because of service faults or defects that are reported to the Company.
- (F) When exchange telephone service used for IIMTS is directly connected (i.e., not connected through a Multiline Terminating System) at a customer's premises to a communications system, chargeable time for all classes of service begins when a call from the telecommunications network terminates in or passes through the first multiline terminating system or terminal equipment on that communication system. It is the customer's responsibility to furnish appropriate answer supervision to the point of connection with the exchange telephone service so that chargeable time may begin.

When any equipment or system which is not subject to Part 68 of the FCC's Rules and Regulations is connected, the Minimum Protection Criteria specified in this Tariff must be met.

IIMTS is not represented as being adapted for connection to customer-provided terminal equipment, multiline terminating systems or communications systems, or other services.

The Company is responsible for the quality of transmission from station to station.

2.7.2 Responsibilities of the Customer

When Customer equipment or a Customer-provided communications system is connected to IIMTS, the Customer assumes responsibility for the Connection as follows:

(A) Compatibility with IIMTS

The Customer is responsible for the compatibility of its equipment or system with IIMTS. This responsibility applies at the initial installation and on a continuing basis as long as the connection is made.

(B) Interface Information

The Customer must specify the type of interface which is required to enable the equipment or system to function with IIMTS.

2.7.2 Responsibilities of the Customer (Cont'd)

(C) Interference and Hazard

The operating characteristics of the Customer equipment or Customer-provided communications system connected to IIMTS must not interfere with, or impair, any of the services offered by this Company. In addition, they must not endanger the safety of Company employees or the public, damage or interfere with the proper functioning of Company equipment, or otherwise injure the public in its use of IIMTS.

(D) Changes to IIMTS

The Company is not obligated to alter or modify IIMTS because of additions or changes to Customer equipment or a Customer-provided communication system.

(E) Testing and Maintenance

If a trouble condition occurs on an assembly, the Customer must determine whether the fault is in: (1) the connected Customer equipment or Customer-provided communications system; or (2) IIMTS. The Company will test and maintain only IIMTS.

The testing of IIMTS will usually be made from a central office. If a Customer requests the dispatch of a repair person to the Customer's or User's premises, the customer will be responsible for the payment of charges for that dispatch, as provided in the Company's basic local services tariff.

2.7.3 Responsibilities of the Company

(A) General

The Company will furnish and maintain its service components in a manner suitable for IIMTS. The Company will make available information as required by Part 68 of the FCC's Rules and Regulations (e.g., the number of ringers that may be connected to a particular line). In addition, the Company will be responsible for the compatibility of its equipment or services with IIMTS when such equipment or services are connected to IIMTS at a central office.

(B) Changes in components, Operations, or Procedures

The Company is not responsible to any party if a change in its IIMTS components, operations, or procedures, which is consistent with the Registration Program, (1) affects any facilities, Customer equipment or Customer-provided communications systems provided by others in any way; or (2) requires their modification in order to be used with IIMTS. However, if such changes can be reasonably expected to materially affect the operating or transmission characteristics of the IIMTS or render any Customer equipment or Customer-provided communications system incompatible with IIMTS, the Company will provide adequate notice, in writing, to allow the Customer an opportunity to maintain uninterrupted service.

2.7.4 Connection to a Customer-Provided Communications system or to Service(s) Provided by Others

Any system or service connected to an IIMTS offering must be operated and maintained so it will work satisfactorily with IIMTS. Connections to IIMTS will be made in accordance with the following:

2.7 Connections (Cont'd)

2.7.4 Connection to a Customer-Provided Communications system or to Service(s) Provided by Others (Cont'd)

(A) Answer Supervision

Answer Supervision must be provided when an IIMTS offering is connected to switching equipment or a Customer-provided communications system which is not subject to Part 68 of the FCC's Rules and Regulations, 47 C.F.R. Part 68. In such cases, the equipment or system must provide answer supervision so that the measure of chargeable time begins upon the delivery of the IIMTS call to the switching equipment or to the equipment connected to the communications system and ends upon termination of the call by the calling party.

(B) Minimum Protection Criteria

The connection at the station used for IIMTS must be made so that it continually complies with the specified Minimum Protection Criteria (see Minimum Protection Criteria, at 2.7.5).

(C) Customer-provided Communication System Failures

When a Customer-provided communications system fails and the connection to IIMTS is not through switching equipment, the Customer-provided communications system must be arranged to promptly return the IIMTS to an idle (on-hook) state. In addition, the Customer must notify the Company when the Customer-provided communications system fails.

(D) Use of Satellite Facilities

If a Customer-provided communications system uses satellite facilities (directly or indirectly), and is connected to IIMTS, there may be two or more satellite links involved in the combined connection. In such cases, the company will not be responsible for any deterioration in transmission. It will continue to furnish IIMTS using the service components that it considers to be appropriate. Credit allowance will not be granted unless the IIMTS is interrupted.

2.7.5 Minimum Protection Criteria

(A) General

Minimum Protection Criteria have been specified so that Company personnel, equipment, and services will be protected from the harmful effects of signal power overload, hazardous voltages and longitudinal imbalance. Minimum Protection Criteria apply to the direct electrical, acoustic, or inductive connections of Customer Equipment, test equipment and Customer-provided communications system to IIMTS.

(B) All Connections

Customer Equipment, test equipment and Customer-provided communications systems which are connected to IIMTS on a direct electrical basis or an acoustic or inductive basis, must comply with the following:

2. GENERAL REGULATIONS (Cont'd)

2.7 Connections (Cont'd)

2.7.5 Minimum Protection Criteria (Cont'd)

(B) All Connections (Cont'd)

(1) To protect other Company service, it is necessary that the signal which is applied at the station meets the following limits:

(a) Metallic Voltage

(i) 4 kHz to 270 kHz

Center Frequency (f) of 8 kHz Band	Maximum Voltage in All 8 kHz Bands	Terminating Impedance
8 kHz to 12 kHz	- (6.4+12.6 log f) dBV*	300 ohms
12 kHz to 90 kHz	(23 - 40 log f) dBV	135 ohms
90 kHz to 266 kHz	-55 dBV	135 ohms

*dBV = 20 log<sub>10</sub> voltage in volts

(ii) The root-mean-square (RMS) value of the metallic voltage components in the frequency range of 270 kHz to 6 MHz shall, averaged over 2 microseconds, not exceed -15 dBV. This limitation applies with a metallic termination having an impedance of 135 ohms.

(b) Longitudinal Voltage

(i) 4 kHz to 270 kHz

Center Frequency (f) of 8 kHz Band	Maximum Voltage in All 8 kHz Bands	Terminating Impedance
8 kHz to 12 kHz	- (18.4+20 log f) dBV*	500 ohms

(1) (Cont'd)

(b) Longitudinal Voltage (Cont'd)

(ii) The root-mean-square (RMS) value of the longitudinal voltage components in the frequency range of 270 kHz to 6 MHz shall, averaged over 2 microseconds, not exceed -30 dBV. This limitation applies with a longitudinal termination having an impedance of 90 ohms.

(2) To prevent the interruption or disconnection of an IIMTS call, it is necessary that the signal power applied at the station be limited. Specifically, the signal at the station shall at no time have energy concentrated solely in the 2450 to 2750 Hz band. If there is signal power at the station in the 2450 to 2750 Hz band, it must not exceed the power present at the same time in the 800 to 2450 Hz band.

(C) Direct Electrical Connections

In addition to the regulations in (B) preceding, Customer Equipment, test equipment and customer-provided communications systems which are connected to IIMTS on a direct electrical basis must comply with the following:

(1) To prevent excessive noise and crosstalk, it is necessary that the power of the signal presented at the serving office to exceed 12dB below one milliwatt when measured over any three second interval. To insure that this limit is not exceeded, the power of the signal which may be applied by the Customer Equipment, test equipment or Customer-provided communications system to the station will be specified for each Customer location. In no case shall the power exceed one milliwatt.

2.7.6 Recording of Two-way Telephone Conversations

IIMTS is not represented as adapted to the recording of two-way telephone conversations. However, voice recording equipment which is directly, acoustically or inductively connected with IIMTS may be used for the recording of such conversations subject to the following regulations which have been adopted by the FCC:

(A) Recording Requirements

The voice recording equipment must be arranged so that it can be connected or disconnected (or switched on or off) at the will of the Customer. In addition, one of the following conditions must apply:

- All parties to the telephone conversation must give their prior consent to the recording of the conversation, and the prior consent must be obtained in writing or be part of, and obtained at the start of, the recording, or
- All parties to the telephone conversation must be verbally notified at the beginning of the conversation and the notification must be recorded as part of the call, by the recording party, or
- A distinctive recorder tone, repeated at intervals of approximately fifteen seconds, is required to alert all parties when the recording equipment is in use. The distinctive recording tone can be provided as part of: (1) the recording equipment; or (2) registered or grandfathered protective circuitry.

- the licensee informs each party to the call of its intent to broadcast the conversation; or
- each party to the call is aware of the licensee's intent to broadcast the call; or
- such awareness of the licensee's intent to broadcast the call may be reasonably imputed to the party.

(B) Exceptions

The FCC has established the following exceptions to the foregoing requirements:

- (1) Recordings made of incoming calls to telephone numbers publicized for emergencies involving health or safety of life and property (e.g., emergency situations involving fire, health care, police, public utilities and emergency road service) and outgoing calls made in immediate response to such calls. Included in this exception are:
  - (a) Recordings made at the United States Department of Defense Command Centers of emergency communications transmitted over the Department of Defense's private line system when connected to IIMTS.

3. SERVICE CLASSIFICATIONS AND RATES (TWO-POINT)

3.1 Interstate IntraLATA Service

3.1.1 Application

Service originating in Winterhaven, California and terminating at another point in the LATA is furnished as set forth in 3.1.2 and 3.1.3 following.

3.1.2 Mileage Measurement

(A) Mileage Determination

- (1) Rates for service between points in the LATA are based on the airline mileage between rate centers which are listed below. In general, each point in the LATA is designated as a rate center except the certain small towns or communities are assigned adjacent rate centers with which they are closely associated for communications purposes or by community of interest and in a few of the largest cities there are several rate centers further identified as city zones.

(a) Where a Point is Divided into City Zones

The rate airline mileage is measured between the rate center of the city zone and the rate center of the other point, except that when such mileage exceeds 40 miles, the rate airline mileage is measured between the rate center of the city itself and the rate center of the other point with a minimum of 40 miles being applicable.

3.1 Interstate IntraLATA Service (Cont'd)

3.1.2 Mileage Measurement (Cont'd)

(A) Mileage Determination (Cont'd)

(1) (Cont'd)

(b) Where Both Points Are Divided into City Zones

The rate airline mileage is measured between the rate centers of the city zones, except that when such mileage exceeds 40 miles, the rate mileage distance is measured between the rate centers of the cities themselves with a minimum of 41 miles being applicable.

(2) For the purpose of determining airline mileages, vertical and horizontal grid lines have been established across the United States. The distance between these grid lines is one coordinate unit, approximately 1, 670 feet. A vertical (V) and a horizontal (H) coordinate is computed for each rate center from its latitude and longitude location. A (V) coordinate and (H) coordinate fixes a rate center at the intersection of an established vertical grid line with an established horizontal grid line. To determine the rate distance between any two rate centers, proceed as follows:

(a) Obtain the (V) and (H) coordinates for each rate center.

(b) Obtain the differences between the (V) coordinates of the two rate centers. Obtain the difference between the (H) coordinates. The difference is always obtained by subtracting the smaller coordinate from the larger coordinate.

(c) Divide each of the differences obtained in (b) above by three, rounding each quotient to the nearer integer.

3.1 Interstate IntraLATA Service (Cont'd)

(2) (Cont'd)

(d) Square the two integers obtained in (c) above. If the sum of the squares is greater than 1777, divide the integers obtained in (c) above by three, and repeat this step (d). Continue to repeat this process until the sum of the squares obtained in this (d) is less than 1778.

(e) The number of successive divisions by three in steps (c) and (d) above determines the value of "N". Multiply the final sum of the two squares obtained in step (d) by the multiplier specified in the following table for this value of "N" preceding:

N	Multiplier	Minimum Rate Distance
1	0.9	-
2	8.1	41
3	72.9	121
4	656.1	361
5	5,904.9	1,081

(f) Obtain square root of product in (e) above and, with any resulting fraction, round up to next higher integer. This is the rate distance except that when the distance so obtained is less than the minimum rate distance shown in (e) above, the minimum rate corresponding to the "N" value is applicable.

(B) Rate Determination

Rates applicable for the mileages obtained are as provided in 3.1.3 (F) (1).
